

RBWH and UQCCR

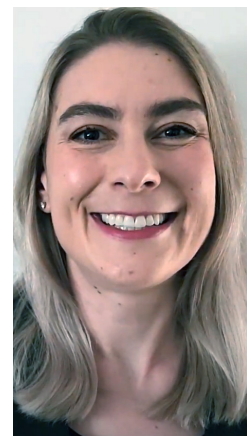

Brain, Neurology and Mental Health Research Seminar Series

Epilepsy

A better path: Improving outcomes for people with new-onset seizures and epilepsy

Speaker: Emma Foster

Dr Emma Foster is an early career academic neurologist at The Alfred and Monash University in Melbourne, Australia. She completed her PhD on Optimisation of First Seizure and Epilepsy Management in May 2021. She designed and is currently leading multicentre prospective clinical studies to improve the ways in which we deliver healthcare. She is a committee member for the Epilepsy Society of Australia, as well as the Australian and New Zealand Headache Society. She is the recipient of several prestigious awards, including the 2023 Monash Partners STAR clinician fellowship.

UQCCR Auditorium
Thursday 15 February, 8:00-9:00am

clinical-research.centre.uq.edu.au